smallcase rationale

For long-term investors, dividend returns are very important as they are an additional income that is earned over and above the capital gains earned by holding onto the stock.

- This smallcase consists of companies that have increased their dividend payout consecutively for the last 10 years.

Stock returns consist of two parts--price return and dividend return. An investor can earn back a significant portion of the investment in the form of dividends, before selling the stock.

Methodology

Defining the universe

All publicly traded companies on the National Stock Exchange of India, covering 90% market capitalization, are included in the universe

Research

The smallcase Research team studies research papers and documented investment philosophies and strategies. Ideas and strategies are then adapted for the Indian markets, with which a criteria for stock screening is finalized

Stock Screening

- Proprietary liquidity filters are applied to remove ill-liquid stocks from the universe
- A special check is applied to remove stocks, where a significant part of the promoter holdings are pledged, to define the investable universe
- The model criteria identified in the previous step is applied on the investable universe to select qualifying stocks

Weighting

This list of selected stocks is equal weighted

Historical back-testing

All model based smallcases are checked for historical outperformance to ensure that only consistently outperforming models are selected

Rebalance

This smallcase has an annual rebalance schedule. Once every year, the research team reviews this smallcase and drops stocks which do not meet the model criteria and adds new stocks

Definitions and Disclosures

Index Value

Index value for all smallcases start from 100 since their inception date and helps investors easily calculate the returns generated since inception and between two specific dates. For example, if the current index value of the smallcase is 150, it means it has generated 50% since its inception. If the index value of a smallcase was 215 last month and the current index value is 245, it means it has generated $(245/215)-1 = 13.9\%$ return in last one month

CAGR

CAGR (compounded annual growth rate) is a useful measure of growth or performance of a portfolio. It represents the growth/return rate that gets you to the current value of the investment, starting from the initial investment value and assuming that investment has been compounding at the fixed growth/return rate for the period.

In simple words, it indicates the annual return generated by the smallcase from the date of inception

Risk Label

Change in value of your investment, due to changing prices of stocks on a daily basis is called the Risk. If the daily change in the investment value of portfolio is too drastic, it means prices of stocks in the portfolio are changing very rapidly. Such portfolios have High Risk.

Every smallcase is categorized into one of the three risk buckets - High Risk, Moderate Risk and Low Risk. This is done by comparing the volatility of the smallcase with market volatility since inception. Investing in High Risk smallcases means that change in your investment values can be very sudden and drastic.

Segment

Stocks/ETFs belonging to a smallcase are categorized under different segments. Weightage of a segment is calculated as sum of weights of all stocks belonging to that segment. Suppose 4 stocks, with each having a weight of 10%, belong to the Food Products segment. Then the weight of the Food Product segment in the smallcase will be 40% (4*10)

Review

Rebalancing is the process of periodically reviewing and updating the constituents of a smallcase. This is done to ensure that stocks & weights in the smallcase continue to reflect the underlying theme or strategy
